Aneta Narowska

I'm a graduate of Gdańsk University of Technology. I'm a creative and consistent person. I can be task oriented and attain my goals effectively. Professional development achieved by setting myself up more and more complex tasks is a crucial element for me. At the beginning of last summer, I completed a basics course of the Python programming language. My next activity was learning HTML and CSS. In the future, I would like to continue my professional path in the best IT companies.
